Bangalore. The special levy of fee on firewood carts alone has not been sanctioned by Govt. The Municipality set apart a piece of land & enclosed it by a wall at some expense to the city for use as carts. The small fee levied is in the shape for rent for the use of the cart stand. Hence the levy does not appear to be illegal DJ 16/8

Bangalore.

Sir,

With reference to your memo no 1686 / L.F. 28-95. dated the 2nd August 1895; calling for information in regard to the levy of fees on fire-wood carts in the Bandy stand below Doddakere in Mysore, I beg to state as follows.

2. Apparently with the object of preventing the fire-wood carts from causing obstruction in the streets of Mysore the Municipality has constructed a cart-stand. The fuel carts come and halt there and there they are bought and taken thence to the houses of the purchasers. For allowing the carts to halt in the cart stand the municipality charges three cash per cart. The amount realized is about Rs 130/- per annum. The keeper of the cattle pound in the vicinity was told to collect this stand fee also. He asked that he might be remunerated for that work.

The municipality in its resolution in question decided to give him commission at ten per cent of the gross collection.

These are the facts of the case.

Sir,

With reference to Government order no 2520/L.F. 28.95. of the 21st August 1895, enquiring if fees are collected in the municipal cart stand on carts other than fire-wood carts, I beg to state that 3 fees are collected on all carts entering the cart-stand whether loaded or unloaded.

2. The right of collecting the fees was once sold in public auction in the year 1894-95 but the contractor having failed to pay the amount and there being no property to proceed against for its recovery, the Amani system was, it would appear, introduced. As it worked satisfactorily,

the commissioners are of opinion that it should continue.

3. The keeper of the cattle pound is entrusted with the collection of the fees in addition to his own duties and so the municipal commissioners think that he should be remunerated for it.

4. A copy of the resolution of the board dated the 7th September 1895 is herewith submitted.

yes. There is a precedent for treating the fee as rent. In this view sanction may be accorded; but I am doubtful as to whether this can be regarded as a case where the Board has the power to levy fees.
